The London Times, in an article on the state of Enrope, says:—

Little notice has been taken of a paragraph which recobilly appeared in the Vienna Presse, hinting at a probable disarmament. The news is too good to be true. We will not undertake to say what results the diplomatic contrivances of the past few weeks have had toward improving Napoleon's position with respect to foreign affairs, so as to enable him to meet his home dimentities with sufficient confidence of success. If it is true that General Labour Intends to drop the scheme of a garde mobile and proposes the suppression of general commands, that might be jaken as an earnest of the Emperor's pacific and sociomical intentions. The interchange of civilities between sovereigns and statemen augurs well for the chances of tranquillity. At the present momenthere is no apprehension of a warlike outbreak; no cause of offence; no pretext for dispute exists. The old alliances have been broken up and the "balance of power" is a question of the past. It may be said that peace now rests on a sounder basis than ever.

The Prussian Legislative Diet-Speech of King William to the Members. BERLIN, Oct. 9, 1869.

King William opened the regular session of the russian Diet with a pacific speech. He said the effect in the national finances was unavoidable, and that an augmentation of the taxes would therefore be necessary. He announced several reforms for the Eastern provinces, the most important of which were a new educational law and measures looking more to local self government. He spoke at cou-siderable length on the efforts that had been made to preserve peace and friendly relations with the other nations of the world, and the success these efforts had met with, me hoped his future policy in this direction would be equally satisfactory. He should still strive to preserve friendly relations with all the world, aim at the development of the resources of the country and the maintenance of the dignity and indepen-

THE VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.

Ratification of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments in the Two Houses-The Radical Discomfiture-Adjournment of Both Branches Until Oct. 18-The Senatorship.

RICHMOND, Oct. 8, 1869. The floors and galleries of both houses of the General Assembly were throughd this morning because of the announcement that the two constitutional amendments would come up for ratification, and the most intense interest was manifested by the members and the vast audience. Some degree of uneasiness was felt about the fourteenth amendment, which declares ineligible to office all the prominent leaders in the late rebel-lion that held office prior to the war, and among in that held office prior to the war, and among whom are some of the most respected and inducatial men in the South. This amendment, which left the question of surfrage with the States, was rejected by the Johnson Legislature of 1866-7, only one vote being cast for it in that body, and hence the formal ratification required to-day created a good deal of anxiety. The radical factionists were hopeful that the Walker republicans would vote against it, and thereby furnish them a pretext to my before Congress to defeat the admission of the State, but they were disappointed. In the Senate Mr. Herdon, from the joint committee on the Governor's message, reported that they agreed to report the two bills, one ratifying the fourteenth and the other the fifteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, with the recommendation that they do pass. Amid a solemn silence the Senate bill No. 1, ratifying the fourteenth amendment, was taken up and passed to its third reading under a suspension of the rules. Upon its final passage the yeas and nays were demanded, only four persons voting in the negative—namely, Anderson, Johnson, Pendicton and Lyons, the latter being a colored member. There was a feeling of evident relief upon the announcement of the vote, and the litteenth amendment was then taken up and ratified, Messrs. Johnson, conservative, and Lyons, colored ralical, alone voting in the negative. Lyons, who is ignorant, and asked his discretion of other members of his party, explained that he voted against the legality of the Senate and every act performed by it, which he felt confident would not stand one moment before Congress. A resolution pledging the General Assembly to ratify the amendment after the admission of the State, if Congress thought it necessary, was lost, as such a condition was considered superfluous.

The scene in the House reasembled that in the Senate; the feeling, if anything, being more intense among the spectators and members. The fifteenth amendment was first taken up and passed its sever men in the South. This amendment, which left the

All three prisoners were remanded in default of $20,000 ball, and conveyed to prison under the guard of policemen. That these precautions are nece-sary is evident to those who have been present at the hearings of the case; and when threats are made to shoot the detective officers if they dare to search particular houses, and when a man will publicly declare that he would give $10,000 if Neil McLaughlin were out of the custody of the Philadelphia police, the authorities cannot exercise too many precautions.

THE EXPECTED HIGH TIDE.

The prophecy of the English engineer officer that the low shores of Jersey would be submerged yesterday by an unprecedentedly high tide was, happily, not fulfilled. A good deal of excitement was created in the districts most exposed, and preparations were made for the dreaded event. Great atmospheric changes were also announced to take place in consequence of the sun's relative position to the earth yesterday, but the weather was exceedingly fine. The tide reached its greatest elevation in the harbor at twenty minutes to eleven o'clock in the morning, but the water was only eighteen inches higher than on the previous day. It was higher on Monday, when the rain storm and wind caused it to risk several feet in excess of the usual high water mark; but, as on yesterday, no damage was done. An impression prevailed, however, in Jersey G'cy last night that the tide would run very much higher yet, but up to the bour of our going to press he alaxaning The prophecy of the English engineer officer that

PROVIDENCE, R. L. Oot. ., 1869.

The second annual horse fair of the Narraga. 4ct Park Association closed to-day brilliantly. A finer day was never enjoyed by the multitude of people who assembled to witness the trotting. The track was in excellent condition for fast time, and all the ore them. The attendance was immense, there being a larger number of persons on the track to-day than there has been on all the other days of the meeting combined. The meeting has been a very successful one in all its phases. There were two trots to-day, the first being for horses that never trotted better than two minutes and fifty seconds, and the second for all horses, for a purse of $5,000. The latter was the great event of the meeting, and a gallant race it was. The first trot was for a purse $1,000 for horses that never beat two minutes and fifty seconds, mile heats, best three in five, in har-ness -$700 to the first, $200 to the second and $100 to the third horse. There were seventeen entries, but only three started. These were Mr. Burnham's sorrel mare Nonesuca, Dr. Ogie's brown horse (no name), and Henry Taylor's white gelding. Snowball. Drift was a great favorite over the field be fore it was known that he was lame. In pools sold without Drift Nonesuch had the call at long odds.

FIRST TROT. second place, Snowball outside. Dr. Ogle's horse took the lead, Snowball second, Nonesuch last and on a break. Ogle's horse opened a gap to the quarter pole of six lengths, in forty seconds, Snowball second, three lengths ahead of Nonesuch. On the backstretch Snowball broke up, and Nonesuch, who was at this time fifty yards behind, began to trot steadily and went on closing the gap at every stride. Ogle was six lengths ahead at the haif-mile second, a head in front of colesmith Maid, who was three lengths ahead of American Girl, Lucy fourth and American Girl fifth. Going down the backstretch George Palmer broke up, and before he recovered was far in the rear of all his competitors. Lady Thorn showed daylight in the face of Goidsmith Maid on the backstretch, but the flute mare shut it up before reaching the nail-mile pole. When the old mare passed that point, in 1:08, Goidsmith Maid was at ner wheel and six lengths in front of Lucy, the American Girl next and Palmer last. Lady Thorn was pressed hard by Goidsmith Maid around the lower turn, but when they reached the three-quarter pole the little mare fell off a tride, and when Lady Thorn came into the homestretch she was two lengths in front. Getting lato straight work she came away from Goldsmith Maid rapidly, and won the heat by half a dozen lengths in 2:18½. Goldsmith Maid was second, six lengths in front of Lucy, who was a head in savance of American Girl, who led Palmer four lengths. This was the best trotting ever made by Lady Thorn. 17:173 Heal.—The horses had a very bad start, Lady Thorn and American Girl being several lengths behind the leaders and not expecting the word at the time. Palmer had a good lead, Goldsmith Maid second, Lucy third, American Girl fourth and Lady Thorn last. Palmer led one length around the turn, Goldsmith Maid second, Soing along the backstretch Palmer continued to lead one length, Goldsmith Maid second, six lengths anead of Lady Thorn. They passed the quarter pole in the order above given in thirty-five seconds. Going along the backstretch Palmer continued to lead one length, Goldsmith Maid second, four lengths ahead of Lady Thorn, who was two lengths in front of American Girl, who was one length of the quarter pole in the order above given in thirty-five seconds. Going around the lower turn Lady Thorn torted very fast, closing on the others rapidly, and as she entered the homestretch overhauled them very fast. THIRD RACE—CHAMPION STAKES.

This race is for three years olds, $200 each, half forfeit, with $1,500 added by the Jockey Club; the second horse receiving $300 out of the stakes. The race is mile heats and has thirty-eight subscribers, among them being Belmont's Gienelg, the winner of the Travers Stakes at Saratoga; Cameron's Invercauld or Inverness; Jerome's Rapture, Hunter's Attraction, Purdy & Withers' Vespucius, McDaniels Bonnie Lass and others. It will be exciting and closely contested. Belmont's entry is the favorite. FOURTH RACE—NURSERY STAKES.

This is for two year olds. It is a stake of $50 each, play or pay, with $1,500 added one mile, and had thirty-four entries, making the prize worth the handsome sum of $3,000. There will probably be many starters in this contest, and the winner will have many formidable opponents to encounter. It will without doubt be the most interesting feature of the meeting.

BUFFALO, Oct. 8, 1869. The interest in the International Industrial Exhibition increases daily. Many articles delayed by the recent railroad obstructions have arrived and been placed in position. The city is full of visitors from every part of the State and from Canada, and the fair buildings are thronged night and day. One of the large manufacturing firms of Buffalo has purchased 900 tickets for its employes to attend in a body on Saturday night. One of the most attractive displays on exhibition is a beautiful stand covered with velvet, on which stand seventy-five glass tubes, ranging from thirteen inches to four and a half feet in height, containing as many varieties of oil, and mounted on silver pedestals; also a richly ornamented frame containing thirty medias from the world's fairs in London, Paris, &c. The following correspondence with the American Institute occurred to-day: recent railroad obstructions have arrived and been rocate the friendly suntiments expressed by the Interna tional Industrial Exhibition of Buffalo, and heartily desir

the success of all public displays of skill and industry, which always do advance the interests of agriculture, manufacture art and commerce in America.

S. D. TILLMAN,

Corresponding Secretary of the American Institute.

MUSICAL AND THEATRICAL NOTES.

Twelve matinées are announced for this after noon. At the Fifth Avenue theatre we are promised Shakspeare's comedy of "Twelfth Night," at Booth's Miss Bateman will appear as the forsaken "Leah," Patti will sing at Steinway Hall, at Niblo's "Formosa" will go to "ruin" at "railroad" speed.
"The Tempest" will rage with all its scenic splendors at the Grand Opera House, "The Streets of New York" will be handsomely illustrated at the Olympic, "Peril" will be out of danger at the Museum Tammany, the Waverley, Theatre Comique and Tony Pastor's, and "Lucie de Lammermoor" will be given at the Academy of Music for the benefit of the unfortunate operatic artistes who were begutted into trying to "raise the wind" by raising their voices in the ill-starred "Catacombs."

Miss Alice Zavistowski takes a benefit to-night at Wood's Museum, when she will appear in the our-lesques of "Pocahontas" and "Wip Wan Winkle." Herrmann did "wonders" at the Academy of Music on Tauraday evening last—he actually turned away about three hundred people, not even being able to accommodate them with standing room. This is something that has not been done at the Academy for a number of years. The ninety-nine and a half stockholders would do well to purchase the recipe for crowding the nouse from the tricky necromancer. This evening the great "Professor" will again hold forth at the same place.

"Jeah" makes way this evening at Booth's theatre for "Enoch Arden." The latter piece, as dramatized by Mr. Arthur Mathison, is proving quite a success, and the acting of Mr. Hamilton, who sustains the title role, is exceedingly fine.

De Cordova, the humorist and lecturer, will deliver at Steinway Hall, on the 25th inst, his new fling at Home;" on the 25th another, "Our New Clergyman," and on the 1st of November a third, "Whifflin vs. Smillin, Breach of Promise," It will not be the fault of Mr. De Cordova if our lecture season does not open brilliantly.

The dramatic season at the French theatre will. on Thursday evening last-he actually turned away name of Mr. De Cordova it our lecture season does not open brilliantly.

The dramatic season at the French theatre will commence on Monday evening next, with Mr. Chanfran in "Sam." The comedy is one of established popularity and will be presented under circumstances of decided advantage. Its cast promises to be a very effective one, and the scenic requirements of the piace will be liberally dealt with, the artisis being now actually engaged upon the work of illust or the piece will be interary deal with, the artiss being now actually engaged upon the work of illustrating the tocate of the play. Mr. Chanfran is an old favorite with our citizens, and wild doubtless be warmly welcomed back to the metropolitan stage.

Dr. William Berge, the well known organist, takes charge of the organ and choir of st. Francis Xavier's church, Sixteeuth street, on Sunday next.
